VOLUME 28, 1-2 (1995) IS ON ITS WAY

With Volume 27, 1-4, Iranian Studies began being printed by Thomson-Shore, Inc. Volume 27 (1994) printing was mailed September 25, 1995. Members who paid dues for 1994 should have received this issue. Volume 27 paved the way for Volume 28, 1-2, which has already been printed and should be in the mail by the time you read this.

Dues notices for members who had not paid for 1995 were mailed out in early September. If you received one of these notices (and if you have not already responded by paying those dues), you should do so right away. The 1995 issues will be mailed only to members in good standing (i.e., your dues should be paid). This will also be the last SIS News that members who have not paid for 1995 will receive. We look forward to hearing from any of you who have not paid soon! Thank you very much!

CHANGES TO CONSTITUTION OFFERED

An ad hoc committee composed of Juan Cole, Ali Banuazizi, and Bill Hanaway has been conferring since last fall about amendments to the existing Constitution for the Society for Iranian Studies. (The Constitution includes what would be called bylaws as well.) Their deliberations were completed and the proposed modifications were presented to the council members who approved them. Now it is the turn of the membership to accept or reject them.

Please take some time to look over the current and proposed constitution included in this issue of the newsletter. Substantial changes are being proposed concerning the leadership of the Society. The Society is currently governed by a three-person Executive Committee (Executive Secretary, Journal Editor, and Treasurer) and a nine-person Council. The amendments would create three new positions: President, President-Elect, and Past President. The people holding these positions would also be Council Members, act as a check on the person serving as Executive Secretary, and would also do some of the work the Executive Secretary now handles. Since the Society just elected two Student Members to the Council, the number of regular and student Council Members will be eight, so that, with the various presidents, the total number would be eleven.

If you have paid your 1995 dues, you are entitled to vote on these changes. Please use the proxy ballot at the end of the proposed constitution and mail it to the secretariat (c/o the return address) by December 1, 1995. Results of the vote will announced in the next newsletter.

MESA 1995

The annual business meeting of the Society for Iranian Studies (SIS) takes place at the annual meeting of the Middle East Studies Association (MESA). MESA will meet this year in Washington, D.C., December 6-10, at the Washington Hilton and Towers. Those of you interested in attending the MESA meeting should contact the MESA office in Arizona at 520-621-5850.

The annual SIS Business Meeting will take place from 10 am to 12 noon, December 7, 1995, in Jefferson East of the Washington Hilton and Towers. Members are all cordially invited to attend. Among other business, members of the Executive Committee give their annual reports at this meeting. A summary of the proceedings will be published in our next newsletter.

Iranian Studies Panels at MESA

Three panels in the MESA program are sponsored by SIS. We would like to thank Janet Afary, who has acted as "panel coordinator" for several years and has made sure that panels relating to Iranian studies were submitted to the MESA program committee in time to be considered. SIS would like to thank Mr. Anthony Kouchak and Arang Keshavarzian for an over-and-above donations to the Society. Such donations are always very much appreciated!

SIS ROSTER OF MEMBERS PUBLISHED

Members of SIS should all have received copies of the Roster of Members, 1995 during the summer. We hope to publish such a roster every two years. In the meantime, you should all be able to network more effectively with your colleagues in SIS.

Despite our best intentions, however, there were a few errors and omissions in the roster (blush!). Please copy this section of your newsletter and put it with your roster, so your records will be as complete as ours.

SIS FLYER PUBLISHED

A one-page flyer describing the Society for Iranian Studies and including a membership blank has been produced at the Secretariat for SIS in Seattle. This flyer is designed to be a membership recruitment tool. So... if you have friends or students who would be interested in joining SIS, please let Charlotte Albright know. She will be happy to send flyers to potential members. Also, anyone wishing to have a copy (or copies) of this flyer may request one (or more).

1996 SIS CONFERENCE POSTPONED

Nineteen ninety-five has been a tremendously busy year for SIS. Journal Editor

Abbas Amanat has published close to two years' worth of journals in one year, we have published several newsletters, a Roster, created an up-to-date database for both individual and institutional members and we could go on. Unfortunately, all of this has taken money; we are paying for all this progress with dues we have collected for one year. We reluctantly decided that we did not have the extra money and energy to devote to a top quality conference in May, 1996. We hope to do better in 1997. Anyone who would like to help with the conference in 1997 should let Charlotte Albright know care of the return address.

THE IRAN REPORT--A NEW MONTHLY

In July, 1995, Eric Hooglund and Scott Harrop announced the publication of a new monthly newsletter, The Iran Report. This newsletter is being published by the Society for American-Iranian Dialogue (SAID), which was founded as an educational, non-profit, and non-partisan organization. The Iran Report aims to provide accurate and timely information about developments inside Iran as well as the diversity of viewpoints both in Tehran and Washington, D.C. For more information or to subscribe, contact the editors at P.O. Box 56, Keene, VA 22946. Email: <wsh2w@virginia.edu>.

IRANIAN WOMEN WRITING PROJECT

Two women, Bookda Gheisar of Seattle, and Christine Lymbertos of San Francisco, plan to publish an anthology entitled Iranian Women Writing Resistance in Autumn of 1997. The anthology will contain fiction and nonfiction writing representing the diversity of Iranian women's experiences. The editors invite submissions for this publication. Topics could be (but are not limited to) cultural traditions and resistance, gender and resistance, sexuality and resistance, political activism and resistance, creativity and resistance, and class/social status and resistance. Deadline for submissions is December 30, 1995. For further information, contact Christine Lymbertos, 1279-6th Ave., #1, San Francisco, CA 94122.

CIRA CALL FOR PAPERS

The Center for Iranian Research & Analysis (CIRA) will hold its Fourteenth Annual Conference on March 28-31, 1996 at Coventry University in the United Kingdom. The general theme of the conference is Iran and the Emerging Global Order. In addition to papers on this theme, a variety of panels dealing with such issues as oil and development, religion, society, culture, literature, art, environmental issues, politics, economy, conflict resolution, and security issues will be offered. Please send your proposals for preorganized panels, workshops or individual papers by November 17, 1995 to Dr. Kamran Mofid, CIRA Conference Convener, Coventry Business School, Coventry University, Coventry, England CV1 5FB. FAX: 01203-838400. Please include a title and an abstract (300-400 words) for each paper proposal.

NEWS OF SOCIETAS IRANOLOGICA EUROPAEA

THIRD SOCIETAS IRANOLOGICA EUROPAEA CONVENED

The third meeting of the Societas Iranologica Europaea took place at Cambridge, England, September 11-15. For information about the papers delivered at this conference, contact Charles Melville, Centre of Middle Eastern Studies, Sidgwick Ave., Cambridge CB3 9DA, Great Britain.

An international symposium on "Documents for the Economic History of Iran" hosted by the SIE will be held in Strasbourg in September, 1997. People wishing to participate need to submit a brief abstract of their papers by November 30, 1995. For information, contact Maria Szuppe, CNRS-Université des Sciences

Humaines de Strasbourg, 22 rue René Descartes, 67084 Strasbourg CEDEX, FRANCE.

INTENSIVE ADVANCED TURKISH LANGUAGE STUDY

Intensive Advanced Turkish will be offered July/August, 1996, at Bosphorus University in Istanbul. The course is sponsored by the American Research Institute in Turkey and administered by Washington University in St. Louis, MO. For more information, phone 314-935-5166, FAX 314-935-7462, or email <sandrew@artsci.wustl.edu>.

OSTAD ELAHI HONORED

The New York portion of an international symposium commemorating the centennial of Ostad Elahi (1895-1974) was convened September 22-23, 1995 at New York University. The title of the program was "Spirituality: Plurality and Unity" and included seminars in science, media, ethics and society, philosophy and human sciences, art and music, and religion. For further information about the proceedings, contact Paula J. Donnolo, Esq. of the Noor Foundation, tel. 212-749-0100 or FAX 212-280-3303.
